Coblos Digital | Aiko Machfuudzoh

Pages Descriptions

Log In page

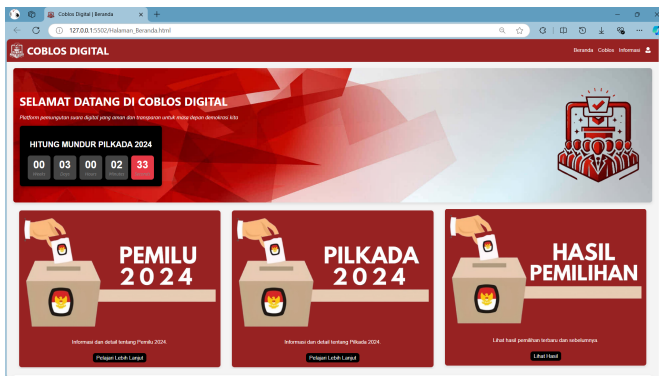

Detail Description

The first page that will display once landed is the login page.

> In this page, the Indonesian citizens are required to fill in their NIK, a short form of Nomor Induk Kependudukan, or national ID number. The ID number plays a critical role as it is a unique number that differentiate between individuals.
>
> As for the password, the citizens will received their passwords through email or phone number sent by the government.

Home page

Detail Description

After the user is logged in, the system will direct to the home page.

> In this page, user will be able to see information related to the election procedure, and the result.
>
> The user will be able to see the countdown until the day of the election.
>
> - This countdown act as the key for the user to access the voting in the voting page.
>
> → See the video for the detailed demo

Voting page

Detail Description

> In this page, the user can see the two types of election, namely general election and regional election. The user can click to choose which to elect.
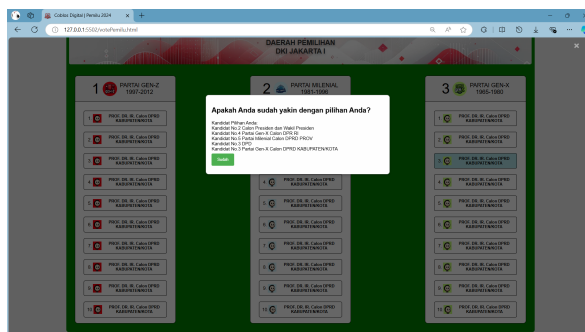

Pemilihan Umum (General Election)

Pemilihan Kepala Daerah (Regional Election)

Detail Description

The user will be directed into the lists of names to elect.

Detail Description

Once chosen, there will be a popup to confirm the selected names.

- Then once clicked the button, it will be directed to the home page.

Profile page

Detail Description

> In this page, the user will be able to see the detailed information about them.

About Coblos page

Detail Description

> In this page, the user can find information about the website, features and frequent asked questions (FAQs).
>
> → See the video for the detailed demo

Reporting page

Detail Description

> If the user has encountered a problem or witness a fraud during the election period, the user can submit a reporting form that contains several of their information and a proof of the fraud.